Europe: how much has the gap narrowed?

09:35 - 10:10

Day One

With headline grabbing unicorns, influential and ambitious companies taking off and new entrants coming to the market, Europe is now more relevant than ever before. How has the ecosystem evolved and what key pillars are now in place? Are we seeing more LP appetite for European VC and tech?

Participants

Moderator: Ross Morrison - Partner, Adams Street PartnersPanellists: Irena Goldenberg - Partner, Highland EuropeNikolas Samios - Managing Partner, PropTech1 VenturesBjorn Tremmerie - Head ICT and Business Angel Investments, European Investment Fund (EIF)Hjalmar Winbladh - Partner, EQT Ventures

Morning coffee and networking break

10:45 - 11:20

---

Diversified portfolios: why seek international exposure?

11:20 - 11:40

Day One

Is the proof in the returns? What are the merits of investing with an international lens and is it time that developing markets got more of a look-in?

Participants

Fireside chat with: Kathryn Mayne - Managing Director, Horsley Bridge Partners LLCInterviewed by: Harry Stebbings - Founder, Stride.VC + The Twenty Minute VC

---

Fundraising in an era of abundance: the implications for both sides of the table

11:40 - 12:15

Day One

Given the current pace of fundraising, the mega-funds, the new sources of capital and the potential for a downturn in the market, what is it like to raise and/or invest in funds in this plentiful environment? With the pace of fundraising increasing and opportunity funds springing up, how easy is it for LPs to manage their GP relationships and budgets? With companies staying private longer, how long do you want to keep investing in a company?

Participants

Moderator: Gil Dibner - Founder & General Partner, Angular VenturesPanellists: Dirk Kersten - General Partner, ForbionGajan Rajanathan - Principal, Highland EuropeSitar Teli - Managing Partner, Connect VenturesDavid York - CEO & Managing Director, Top Tier Capital Partners

---

Tech going mainstream: as new sources of capital enter the market how are round definitions changing?

12:15 - 12:50

Day One

Tech was once the realm of the VC but the digitalisation of economies has led to mainstream growth equity and PE money entering the market. Is the definition of Series A changing and how is the bridge from Series A to Series B and C evolving? Are we seeing a bifurcation of the market in the European later stage, as international brand names double down on their winners?

Participants

Moderator: Kart Siilats - Partner, Mojo.CapitalPanellists: Jason Ball - Partner, GR CapitalTorsten Kreindl - Managing Partner, DIVC Deutsche Invest Venture Capital GmbHMike Reid - Senior Partner, Frog Capital

---

LP investments in European VC: is state capital distorting European venture and when will more private investors enter the market?

12:50 - 14:00

The Lunch Boardroom

As fund sizes increase and Europe continues to show itself as a contender on the world stage, how much capital is the right amount to nurture the ecosystem? What is the right way to progress the market but not rush the pace? And what can be done to address the gap in European private capital – why do some LPs choose not to allocate to European VC?

Interactive discussion run under the Chatham House Rule. No press (session is open to all other attendees).

Participants

Chair: Hussein Kanji - Partner, Hoxton Ventures

Discussion Leaders: Gil Dibner - Founder & General Partner, Angular Ventures

Ben Marrel - Managing Partner, Breega Capital

Johannes Virkkunen - Head of Division – Equity Investments and Guarantees, European Investment Fund (EIF)

---

Data quality and quantity: what is being done to bridge the gap?

14:00 - 14:40

Day One

How significant is the data gap when comparing US and European venture investments? What data is really needed by LPs, GPs and other industry stakeholders?

Data introduction: 15 minutes

Panel discussion: 30 minutes

Participants

Moderator: Joe Schorge - Founder and Managing Partner, Isomer Capital

Panellists: Martin Haemmig - Adj. Professor & Partner, CeTIM/GLORAD

Diversity: processes and policies to drive VC forward

14:00 - 14:40

Engaged Conversations

How can GPs adapt their recruitment policies, remove biases and use a diversity lens to ensure that their teams and investments reflect real-world consumers? What roadblocks and preconceptions do founders and junior investors face and what can the industry do to help?

Data introduction: 15 minutes

Boardroom discussion: 30 minutes

Interactive discussion run under the Chatham House Rule. No press (session is open to all other attendees).

Participants

Chair: Charmaine Hayden - VC Partner, Good Soil Venture Capital

Discussion Leaders: Laura Connell - Principal, Balderton Capital

William McQuillan - Partner, Frontline Ventures

---

How are VCs using data, AI and machine learning to identify and track opportunities, and to monitor decision making quality? And how else is a data-driven approach being utilised?

14:40 - 15:10

Day One

How are technology and data being used in a VC's day-to-day activity and how much of this is hot-air? How do LPs view this disruption to what has primarily been a network and relationship-focused industry?

Participants

Moderator: Graham Pingree - Partner, Cendana Capital

Panellists: Axel Bard Bringéus - Deal Partner, EQT Ventures

Gabriel Matuschka - Partner, Fly Ventures

Jenny Ruth - Founding Partner, Crowberry Capital

---

Measuring the internal dynamics of a VC: how do Partners hold each other accountable?

14:40 - 15:10

Engaged Conversations

When LPs invest in VC funds they invest in teams and people, so how can LPs better understand and diligence those teams to ensure that they are working together efficiently and effectively, and also to confirm a level of accountability? At what point do you really know if a VC is any good and by that point is it too late?

Interactive discussion run under the Chatham House Rule. No press (session is open to all other attendees).

Participants

Chair: Chrys Chrysanthou - Partner, Kindred Capital

Discussion Leaders: Carlos Eduardo Espinal - Managing Partner, Seedcamp

Sebastian Von Ribbentrop - Partner, JOIN Capital

Who should get to raise capital? Finding your niche and rising above the noise

15:40 - 16:10

Day One

With more managers entering the market and looking to raise capital, who decides who will succeed? Are the best managers finding it easier or it is just the best marketed managers or those with the best networks? How can VCs find their own niche and articulate this to LPs and founders?

Participants

Moderator: Jonathan Leinmuller - Actor and Venture Capital Fundraising Coach, Jonathan Leinmuller

Panellists: Jan Borgstädt - Partner, JOIN Capital

Malcolm Ferguson - Principal, Octopus Ventures

Carmen Rico - Partner, Samaipata VC

---

Breaking into the institutional investor LP base

16:10 - 16:40
Day One

With a growing number of institutional investors looking to invest in tech and more specifically, European tech, how can first-time and more established VCs get access and appeal to this group of LPs? How might their criteria differ from other forms of LP capital?

Participants

Moderator: Camilla Richards - Partner and Head of Investor Relations, Atomico

Panellists: Ross Hamilton - Senior Investment Leader and Member of Management, Partners Group

Fidel Manolopoulos - Principal, Hermes GPE

Jeannette zu Fürstenberg - Co Founder and Managing Partner, La Famiglia VC

---

Beyond the fundraise: sustaining a transparent and strong LP/VC relationship

16:40 - 17:10
Day One

Analysing the common mistakes and pitfalls that may lead to LPs questioning a VC's openness, credibility, team culture and ability to plan long-term.

Participants

The bull cycle will turn: how do LPs and GPs prepare for a downturn and how concerned do we need to be?

09:00 - 09:40
Day Two

How counter-cyclical is the venture asset class and with long-term capital commitments, how worried are investors about a potential downturn? How can GPs secure funding in difficult times and how can LPs manage their portfolio if they find themselves overallocated? How will valuations change as we move through the cycle and could we end up seeing more money going into technology?

Data introduction: 10 minutes

Panel discussion: 30 minutes

Participants

Moderator: Craig Netterfield - Managing Partner, Columbia Lake Partners

Data Introduction & Panellist: Holger Rossbach - Senior Director, Private Investments, Cambridge Associates

Redefining fintech

09:40 - 10:00
Day Two

As technology evolves, finance is increasingly permeating the interworkings of our businesses, economies, and ways of life. With this expansion beyond traditional fintech verticals, does fintech become an integral part of technology companies? What opportunity does this represent for investors? This discussion explores how investors can stay ahead of the fintech curve to maximize returns.

Participants

Fireside chat with: Yann Ranchere - Partner, Anthemis Group

Interviewed by: Amy Lewin - Deputy Editor, Sifted

---

Let's talk about exits: a look at creative routes to liquidity and putting the European exit market into context

10:00 - 10:30
Day Two

As companies stay private for longer, are we seeing new avenues for liquidity and will we start to see the exchanges in Europe and Asia taking a bigger piece of the pie? Are the floodgates truly open when it comes to direct listings or are these just one-off instances that are only an option for cash-rich household-names?

Participants

Moderator: Simon Schmincke - Partner, Creandum

Panellists: Elizabeth 'Beezer' Clarkson - Managing Director, Sapphire Ventures

Paul Murphy - General Partner, Northzone

Reshma Sohoni - Co-Founder & Managing Partner, Seedcamp

---

The VC secondary market: why now?

10:30 - 11:00
Day Two

Why is there a need for a secondary market and why has it taken time to develop? What are the upsides to secondaries and as we move through the cycle, how are secondaries bringing transparency, stability and liquidity to the ecosystem? Outside of the traditional secondary market, how are LPs and GPs getting creative with secondary stakes?

Participants

Moderator: John O'Sullivan - Co-Head of Investments, Ireland & Chief Investment Officer, Beechbrook Capital

Panellists: Jemma Bruton - Head of Access Fund, Hambro Perks

Laura Connell - Principal, Balderton Capital

Morning coffee and networking break

11:00 - 11:30

Crossing the pond: why now and are US VCs here to stay?

11:30 - 12:00

Day Two

Why are US VCs showing more interest in Europe? What disparities exist between the two ecosystems and are the gaps closing? With competition rife and valuations sky-high in the US, is Europe a more attractive option? And where are US VCs setting up shop – where do they need feet on the ground in order to cover Europe comprehensively?

Participants

Moderator: Abe Finkelstein - General Partner, Vintage Investment Partners

Panellists: Alliot Cole - CEO, Octopus Ventures

Aaron Jacobson - Partner, NEA

Addie Lerner - Founder & Managing Partner, Avid Ventures
